

I got the mesh in 3ds max > Export to zbrush> Import BUT only textures? The latest final renderer is now R3.5 SP3 (compatible with .3ds again). I have used 3ds max in the past and have always created new scenes to render with the RENDER command. In the end, I have always converted to .3ds, as it is the best format that allows a lot of rendering (distinguishes it from .obj and from .ma). I have some questions about 3ds max: How to convert a scene to .3ds format? Is it possible to use .3ds in RenderMan? 3ds max is very useful for me but I still feel like I can use RenderMan. What is the difference between .3ds and .3ds?
